The 2009 MOC Rogaine
Sunday 14 June 2009 (6 and 3 hour options – Teams or Solo)

"The Gorges"

Event Information

Location
Within 60 minutes travel from Blenheim to the event centre. Orienteering signs will be placed at key locations on main roads for directions. Final travel details will be sent to the Team Contact closer to the event.

Terrain
Farmland, undulating with some moderate climbs/descents. Defined contours, ridges and spurs, lots of gullies and water courses. Good stock routes and tracks (not all marked). Elevation range of 485 metres between lowest and highest map locations. Some scrub, matagouri, native bush and pine plantations.

Spectacular rock features and gorges. The gorges are impassable in places, sheer (80 – 100m) and definitely fatal should you go over the edge or fall over while traversing nearby. Extreme caution advised in route choice and traversing. 'Safe route' options have been marked on the maps and control placement to assist/influence route. All impassable areas known have been highlighted.
Some gorges may become out of bounds in the event of heavy rain in the days preceding the event.

Hazards
Sheer cliffs.
Treat all electric fences as being on.
All attendant risks with farming activities and hilly terrain.
Note/Responsibility: Neither MOC nor the landowners accept liability for any accident or injury to participants during the event. The 'Team Contact' on the entry form must ensure all team members are aware that they participate at their own risk. The waiver statement on the entry form must be completed by each competitor before starting the event.

Maps
Pre-marked A4 size, 1:50,000 scale or A3 @ 1:25,000 scale with 20m contours. Out of bounds areas will be overprinted. One map per competitor. Maps are not waterproof – bring a water proof bag, map case or seal adhesive.

Clothing & Equipment for both Courses
We recommend that every competitor carries at least the following minimum extra clothing and equipment:
- Waterproof parka
- Gloves & Hat (polypropylene or wool)
- Upper and lower body clothing (polypropylene or wool)
- Basic First aid including a survival blanket
- Whistle
- Adequate food and water for the duration of the event

Please respect the landowner's property and privacy. Their support and cooperation for permitting access to their properties is very generous.
We do not in any way wish to jeopardise the fantastic relationship that we have established with the landowners over the past several years. We have a positive reputation with the landowners and the community which we wish to continue.

Access to properties is only for the duration of the event. Possession of the map does not entitle access at any other time.

What is a Rogaine?
A Rogaine is a cross-country navigational and strategy race on foot, designed for people of all abilities. Each participant is given a map with about 40 - 50 circles marked on it showing where "checkpoints" are located. You may visit as many or as few checkpoints as you wish, in any order and by any route, within your course time limit. Visits to checkpoints are recorded on a score punch card.

Some experience with a map and compass is helpful. Much of the pleasure and challenge of a Rogaine is the strategy of planning an optimum route to suit your own or your team's ability.

Scoring points depends on the number of checkpoints visited. Each checkpoint is worth a number of points depending on distance and difficulty. There are stiff penalties for returning after the time deadline with 10-point deductions for every minute after the deadline.

Detailed rules exist, but basically:

You must travel together, within 50 metres of one another at all times. A team shall demonstrate compliance with this requirement to any official or other team on request.

All team members must visit the checkpoints and shall simultaneously approach to within 20 metres, and within sight, of each checkpoint for which points are claimed.

You must respect the landowner's property. Cross fences at posts or climb through the wire. Please abide strictly by the gate policy. Details at briefing

You must be responsible for your own wellbeing by having suitable food, water, clothing and equipment with you. Competitors shall not discard any litter of any form. The use of altimeters and GPS equipment is not permitted including those incorporated in to watches.

Plan your course well. Rogaining is as much about careful route choice and navigation as it is about physical endurance

Team/Individual details: Print in nice clear hand writing please!
