Rogaining Update

Heights of Korowai, Office Hours

Saturday 29th November, 7hrs, Lake Coleridge/Lyndon area.

The good news is that the Heights of Korowai is "ALL GO". With all 35 checkpoint locations in place, organisers Grant (Heights of Winter) Hunter and Dave Laurie are looking forward to packing you off for the delightful spots they've found. Though several planning trips were hampered by knee-deep snow, they swear this is now over until next July. We can offer lodge type accommodation within a kilometre or ten of the start for any out-of-towners, and there is free camping in the area.

Grant says they will colour code a subset of relatively accessible checkpoints so the event offers a good rogaining starter-pack, as well as the more usual challenge - tell your friends.

Entries close in less than 2 weeks (on Wednesday 19th November) so get yours in. See the website http://www.rogaine.org.nz for details and to download an entry form. Contact Grant at (03) 351 6369 or email: g.hunter@clear.net.nz if you require further information or wish to book a place in the Lodge.

New Plymouth 3 hr Afterwork Rogaines

One event has already been held but the next two in a series are on Wednesday 12th November and 3rd December. See the Egmont Orienteering Club website http://www.geohire.co.nz .

Colonial Challenge - Saturday 22nd November, 5 & 10hrs, Porirua, Wellington.

Organised by Tony Gazley for Orienteering HV. The area is between Makara and Titahi Bay, next to the wild west coast! The start/finish will be near Porirua only 30 minutes from downtown Wellington. Download details and entry form from the NZOF Calendar, http://www.mapsport.co.nz/rog/rogevents.html

The Multisport Bikes Rogaine & Trail Quest Series – Saturday & Sunday 6/7 and 20/21 December, 3hrs each event, Auckland.

The Lactic Turkeys, Phil Wood and Shaun Collins, are putting on more of their imaginative events. This time it is two events in one weekend - a foot Rogaine one day and a MTBO Rogaine the other. The first weekend is based in Woodhill Forest and the second at Riverhead. For details see their website http://www.lacticturkey.co.nz .

Afterthoughts

The inaugural Port Hills Twilight Rogaine in Christchurch was a great success with 155 people turning out for an afterwork romp (7pm – 10pm) on the Port Hills. Winners by a handsome margin were Carsten Jorgensen and Michael Adams. A denser pattern of checkpoints than is normal for a Rogaine allowed the winners to amass a score of 1900. A big thanks to Chris Forne for organising the event. Results and interesting pictures are available at http://www.cutc.org.nz/twilight_rogaine/ .

The Wellington Shoestrings series is again proving popular with about 30 people at each of the first two events. The final in the series is next Thursday, 13th November. These events are a great way to boost you fitness and to shake off the blues of a day in the office.
