Mountain Landscape Paintings

by Andy Buchanan

Tuesday 15th August to Sunday 20th August, 11am to 5pm.

Pumanawa, Christchurch Arts Centre

Upstairs, Boys' High building, 28 Worcester Boulevard

Mt Cook and Tasman Saddle Hut
Oil on canvas, 400 x 600mm, 2010.

Mt Binser from the Dome
Oil on canvas, 460 x 610mm, 2015.

Nun's Veil and Gorilla Stream
Oil on canvas, 460 x 610mm, 2016.

Mt Elie de Beaumont from Lindon Ridge
Oil on canvas, 460 x 610mm, 2016.

Andy Buchanan is an amateur artist living in Christchurch. He uses oil paint on canvas to create images of New Zealand mountain scenery, from locations where he has tramped, climbed, or skied. He is a semi-retired structural engineer, previously Professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Canterbury.

"My goal is to re-create a feeling of being in the mountains, using the simplest forms possible. Every painting is the result of a balance between the extremes of too much simplicity or too much detail, neither of which is satisfactory. My focus is on the mountain landscape, with recurring themes of straight lines, geometric shapes, and simple colours".

More information from andy.buchanan@canterbury.ac.nz