The Nenthorn Nemesis
26th & 27th February 2005

Course-setter's and Organiser's Report.

At the end of the first, hot afternoon and with only five checkpoints marked, I wondered if I would ever finish in time for the event. It seemed a very daunting task! Checkpoints are not so easy to find when there is nothing to mark them and no tracks leading through the long grass! However with each day you know the map better and it all goes more smoothly. Help from Laurie Kennedy also made a big difference. Early on it was necessary to spend time reassuring some landowners that rogaining is a low impact sport and all of the phone calls and visits do take up time and involve a lot of driving. It all worked out well and their cooperation is much appreciated.

There were a large number of checkpoints, but this was necessary on relatively fast country to ensure that the top teams were out for the full time. As it turned out, the winning and other high-scoring teams were out for almost 24 hours and achieved very high scores; my congratulations to them.

I must thank all of the following, who helped to ensure a successful and enjoyable rogaine.

The numerous helpers

Bill Kennedy and Peter Squires, who handled all of the paperwork, produced the maps, checked the sites and put out all of the punches and flags and looked after all of the electronic system throughout the event.

Jude Elliot for handling the entries.

Laurie Kennedy, who helped with locating and marking checkpoints, placed all of the water drops and kept them topped up during the days.

Rochelle O'Hagan and Keiran O'Leary, who looked after the catering, from Saturday evening through to late Sunday morning.

The rest of the Cunninghame family – Rose, Alexandra and Francesca, who all helped in many ways and generally put up with me, while I was distracted by rogaine planning and organisation problems.

And all of those who took part and helped to make the rogaine a success and everything worthwhile.
